Sir:

Kindly enter Appellants' remarks without prejudice as follows:

Remarks

Reconsideration is respectfully requested. In accordance with 37 CFR § 41.33(d)(1) a declaration pursuant to 37 CFR § 1.131 is attached herewith. The declaration was not earlier presented because Appellants' representative was, until recently, unaware of the evidence that is referenced in the declaration. The declaration is necessary for several reasons, e.g., it overcomes rejections, it places the application in better condition for appeal purposes, it removes issues on appeal, and it places the application in condition for allowance. Appellants respectfully submit that the declaratory evidence overcomes all rejections under appeal.

Hackett does not qualify as prior art under 35 U.S.C. § 102(e)

The Hackett reference (WO 98/11714) does not qualify as prior art to the recited invention under 35 U.S.C. § 102(e). For example, Hackett has a filing date prior to the November 29, 2000 (AIPA) amendment to 35 U.S.C. § 102(e). Nor is Hackett a U.S. patent. See MPEP § 706.02(f)(1) and § 2136.03. Thus, the 35 U.S.C. § 102(e) rejections based on Hackett are moot.

Hackett has a PCT publication date of March 19, 1998. Appellants claim priority to U.S. patent application 60/103,731 filed on October 9, 1998. At best, Hackett could only qualify as prior art to the recited invention under 35 U.S.C. § 102(a).

Hackett does not qualify as prior art under 35 U.S.C. § 102(a)

Appellants' declaration pursuant to 37 CFR § 1.131 swears behind Hackett's publication date. That is, the declaration establishes invention of the rejected independent claims prior to the effective date of Hackett. It follows that Hackett does not qualify as prior art to the recited invention under 35 U.S.C. § 102(a).

Conclusion

Hackett does not constitute prior art to any of the recited independent claims. Hackett is relied upon in the rejections of all the independent claims. All dependent claims rely on these independent claims. Thus, all of the rejections are moot. Appellants respectfully submit that the application is in condition for allowance.

The undersigned is willing to discuss any aspect of the Application by telephone at the Office's convenience.

Respectfully submitted,

Ralph E. Jøcke
